REGULAR MEETING OF BOARD.

Ordinance Authorizing Issue of Bonds Past Last Reading.

Board of Aldermen met last night in regular session with all the members present except Messrs. Ellington, Hyatt and Thornton.

Alderman Sergeant moved to that the vote by which the arc light on corner of Ashe and Washington streets was to be moved to a point near the Baptist church be reconsidered. The motion carried and the vote was reconsidered. Mr. Glenn moved as a substitute that an incandescent light be placed near the church. The motion was carried.

R. D. Douglas appeared before the Board in behalf of the street railway and requested that action on the removal of same be postponed until the return of his father who is president of the company. The request was granted. Mr. Douglas asked in behalf of the Southside Hose company that an indicator be placed in the room of the company. Request was refused on ground of cost.

The petition of Henry Graham, colored for license to sell whiskey near Hogan's auditorium came up for final consideration and was unanimously refused.

The ordinance calling an election to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued to cover the cost of an extension of the city's sewerage system came up for a final hearing and was passed.

Mr. Frazier moved that the city engineer be required to make an estimate of the cost of the three outlets of the sewerage system on the southeast, southwest and northeast as per the profile in the clerk's office. The motion was carried.

The fireman's committee reported on the request of the Eclipse fire company for equipment and the request was refused on the ground that sufficient companies are already equipped. The consideration of the sanitary ordinance was postponed until the next regular meeting.

A petition of citizens in the northeastern part of the city was filed asking for an extension of the water mains. It was reported to the water committee.

III-Advised Objections.

We regret to hear that objections are being made to giving the right of way by some persons over whose land the survey for the road improvement, near Alamance church, is being made. It is an established fact that in every case in our own state, as well as others, that good roads which give quicker and safer transportation from one section of country to the other invariably enhance the value of property through which they pass. We earnestly hope that public spirit as well as private advantage will induce the people in this section to allow this most important work to proceed. Mecklenburg county can furnish abundant testimony to the increase of land value by her system of improved roads.

It is not simply the advance in land value, but it is a step toward a higher civilization, a departure from the primitive conditions that have existed in regard to internal improvement. Permanent road improvement is an economic measure that deserves the earnest consideration and support of every citizen of our county.

The Wall Fell Down.

One of the brick walls of the building destroyed by fire, out near the water tower, fell down this morning. It came down with a crash, one individual who was near at the time had a narrow escape from the falling debris. His feetness, however, saved him. It would be well if the others were pulled down.

A Fifty Thousand Dollar Snow.

New York, Jan. 29.—Over a thousand and four hundred men have been employed to remove the heavy snow which fell all night and today. It was the heaviest fall of snow this winter, and will cost over fifty thousand dollars to remove it.

Speech By The Czar.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a dispatch from St. Petersburg saying that the Czar, at a dinner given by the officers of the Czebranski Regiment, of which his Majesty is commander, is reported to have said: "Events in east Asia have been weighing heavily upon my mind, especially difficulties with Japan. Now, however, thank God, everything is clear again, and no conflict whatever need be feared."

The correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger does not say when the banquet took place.

MORAL SUASION AND COTTON

A Plan to Reduce Cotton Acreage in the South

BACKED BY A BIG COTTON TRUST

Southern Congressmen Will be Asked to Become Members of the New Organization.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Price, McCormack & Co., of New York, largest cotton brokers in the country, are engineering a plan to reduce the acreage and increase the price of cotton in the United States.

If this is accomplished it will mean practically the formation of a cotton trust. The plan is to organize an "American Cotton Growers' Protective Association," whose object shall be to regulate the production of cotton and prevent loss. No capital will be required for the new organization.

"Moral suasion will be brought to bear upon all the leading planters of the south looking toward the desired end. Congressmen from the south have been invited to become members of the Association.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

At the Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bain Last Night.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bain was thrown open last night from 8:30 to 12 o'clock to quite a number of young people, who were invited to celebrate the birthday of Miss Sallie Love, the beautiful and accomplished sister of Mrs. Bain.

Miss Love wore a light blue taffeta silk, with chiffon, ribbon and pearl trimmings, and never looked more charming and lovely than on this occasion.

The evening was spent in playing games, etc., until 10:30, when the party was ushered into the dining room, where awaited them an elegant repast. To say that all thoroughly enjoyed the evening but feebly expresses it. Mr. and Mrs. Bain's charming hospitality is well known and each and every act of theirs seemed last night, as usual, to say: Welcome to all.

When the hour of 12 o'clock arrived, which it did too soon, the merry party reluctantly separated, leaving behind their best wishes for continuous happiness and prosperity for those who so royally entertained them. Those fortunate enough to receive an invitation and to participate were: Misses Carrie McNairy, Lucy Jones, Ruby Glascock, Susie Stone, Addie Palmer, Nannie Smith and Begha Jones; Messrs. Chas. E. Brower, A. Frank Brooks, John B. Clendenin, Herbert L. Reynolds, Thos. A. Glascock and Eugene W. McNairy.

Happy Hours.

The home of E. W. Rayle, on Cedar street, was a scene of rare enjoyment last night from the hours of 8 to 12, the occasion being a birthday party in honor of Miss Etta Rayle.

Quite a number of friends had been invited and the time was most pleasantly spent. At 10:30 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served.

The happy party reluctantly departed at 12 o'clock.

A Success in Danville.

Standing room was announced early at the Academy of Music when the Lillian Tucker Co. inaugurated a week's stand, presenting "La Belle Marie," as the initial bill. Throughout the evening the applause was continuous and a more conspicuous beginning of what promises to be a six-day's repertoire triumph has not occurred under the present management of the academy. Not alone the play pleased, but there were numerous specialties, including singing, dancing, etc., of the most pleasing description. "La Belle Marie," the title role, was interpreted by Miss Tucker, and this capricious, alluring and dangerous feminine recreation of the playwright was done with consummate art. Her costume in the third act was the admiration of every one of the numerous ladies in the audience. The specialties were excellent. In these Miss Horne, George Moore and the Dyffryn trio, including winsome little Ethel, participated.

Cut to Pieces.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Jersey City, Jan. 29.—John Kalashi, a switchman of the Erie Railway was picked up this morning by railroaders cut to pieces and unrecognizable.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 29, '98.

Rev. J. O. Alderman, N. W. Benson and C. C. Covington, left this morning for Greensboro to attend the Union meeting of the Baptist churches. An invitation will be extended to hold the next session in High Point.

A visit was made to the Oak Hill gold mine yesterday and things were found in a booming condition. Twenty men are steadily employed taking out the rich ore. The company intends to open another mine near Thomasville.

Rufus King returned last night from Durham where he had been in the interest of the Friends Orphanage. He reports a very successful trip.

Miss May McAlister, of Asheboro, stopped over here yesterday with Miss Elizabeth Dowd. Miss McAlister was returning from a visit to friends in Charlotte.

Charles Hauser who at one time held a position in the Commercial National Bank here, but of late has been an employee of the National Bank of Greensboro will return to his first love in the bank here.

The supervisor of the Southern railway is here looking after the gates that are to be put up at the Main street crossing. They will put them in the first of next week.

A. S. Ellison, editor of the High Point Citizen, went down to Asheboro yesterday on business.

His physicians have decided that Mr. Burns' leg will have to be amputated. Mr. Burns is one of the men who were hurt in the wreck on the Asheboro and Aberdeen railroad.

T. J. Redding, of Caroway, was a visitor to High Point yesterday.

W. N. Rush, of Jamestown, is spending the day in the city.

Mrs. Capt. B. J. Fisher passed through this morning enroute to her home in Asheboro.

Leslie Cartland a student of Guilford College, came home yesterday to spend a few days.

Misses Carrie Joyce and Annie Wheeler, of Washington, D. C., are visiting Mrs. F. N. Tate on Manchester avenue.

HALF THE PEOPLE STARVING.

Deplorable Condition of a Delaware Village.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Wilmington, Del. Jan. 29.—Almost half the people in New Castle are on the starvation list. Nearly three-fourths of the town's six thousand inhabitants are dependent upon the Delaware Iron Mills for a living. Two weeks before Christmas the works shut down. The situation is becoming alarming and the idle men are desperate.

Large Band and Orchestra.

Don't fail to see Miss Daisy Ogden, the child soloist, with the Veteran Corps Band of the city of Baltimore, at the Academy next Friday night, Feb. 4th. The Eagle Hose Co. have been fortunate enough to secure this great band and orchestra which is and has been making such a great hit all around us in the past few months, playing in all the large cities in the country and getting the praise of both press and people wherever they go.

The firemen, in order to make themselves safe in securing this musical treat, are making a canvass, and all who buy tickets and have them checked off at Gardner's drug store next Monday, will get reserved seats at general admission price 50 cents. After Monday night reserved seats will positively be 75 cents. General admission 50, Children 25 cents. Go at once and get your reserved seats.

Crawling Out.

The Durham grand jury having adjourned, various esteemed citizens of that town who had engaged in rafting are now crawling out from under the bed, coming out of closets and other places where they had been hidden away.—Statesville Landmark.

Resolution Adopted.

The Teller resolution declaring that U. S. bonds may be paid in either gold or silver passed the Senate yesterday by a vote of 47 to 32. Twenty-five senators spoke upon the resolution and the vote was regarded as indicating the political alignment for 1900.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c.

DAGO WENT TO THE BOTTOM

She Had a Long Battle With the Storms

THE CREW WERE ALL RESCUED

Canadian Makers Want a Big Tax Put on All Bicycles Imported from This Country.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 29.—The North German Lloyd steamer Oller arrived from Bremen and Southampton and brings captain and 24 of the crew of the British tramp steamer Dago of Southampton. The crew was taken from the steamer while she was in a sinking condition. The Dago was abandoned. All transatlantic steamships arriving today report long battles with storms. The Edam, from Amsterdam, passed Teeborg January 24th.

A BICYCLE DUTY.

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—The bicycle manufacturers of Canada asked the government to place a specific duty of 89 on each wheel imported from the United States.

'KEEP YOUR CHILDREN CLEAN'

"Or Go to Jail for Six Months," Said the Judge.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., Jan. 29.—"You must send your children to school in a clean condition; if you don't I will send you to the County Jail for six months." The speaker was Judge Schatz addressing Mrs. Jane Dreiser, a poor widow, who was in court this morning charged with sending her children to school in a dirty condition. "There is plenty of water in the land," he added, "I will discharge you this time, but hereafter you must remember that cleanliness is next to Godliness."

CARTER TO SUCCEED EWART.

A Warm Time Over the High Point Post Office.

A Washington special to the Charlotte Observer of today says:

A special revenue agent left here for Raleigh tonight, to make the transfer of the revenue office at that place. Collector Duncan, who was here today, speaking of the contemplated changes in the office, said if any immediate changes were made the new appointees would be selected from the civil service list, and that appointments would be made with a view to temporary service. An executive order removing deputy collectors from the classified service is daily expected. The statement is authorized that Governor Russell will appoint Police Justice Carter, of Asheville, judge of the western criminal circuit, vice Judge Ewart.

There is to be a hot time over the appointment of postmaster at High Point, but the inside information points to ex-Mayor Snow. Senator Pritchard voted for the Teller resolution today, with the understanding that it was an unequivocal declaration in favor of the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver. During the half dozen roll calls on different amendments he was in the cloak room with Senator Butler.

A HARBOR OF REFUGE.

War Department Recommends $1,500,000 for Beaufort.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Congressman Harry Skinner has received a favorable report from the War Department for an appropriation to make Beaufort harbor a harbor of refuge. The War Department recommends an appropriation of $1,500,000 for this purpose. Mr. Skinner will go before the River and Harbor committee and urge that this item be placed in the river and harbor appropriation bill. Should it fail in the House, the North Carolina Senators will no doubt see to it that the appropriation is tacked on it in the Senate in the shape of an amendment.—News and Observer.

Pay $8,000 and Be a Prince.

Rome, Jan. 26.—The Government intends to submit to Parliament a bill imposing a tax on titles, and the measure discloses the idea Italians have of the market value of these marks of distinction.

The bill proposes that any one desiring the title of Prince shall pay $7,000 therefor. Five thousand dollars will be the sum necessary to obtain the title of Marquis, while $4,000 will buy the title of Count. Any one may become a Baron who is willing to pay $1,000 for the honor.

FIRE IN REIDSVILLE.

Dr. J. N. Hester's House Completely Consumed.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Reidsville, Jan. 29.—Today at 12:55 o'clock the handsome residence of Dr. J. N. Hester was entirely destroyed by fire. The building was valued at $2,500 and was insured for $1,000. The greater part of the furniture was saved. The department was tardy in getting out and trouble with the hose delayed the firemen until the fire was beyond control. The fire originated from a defective flue in the kitchen.

Mr. Gould's Jury Duty Over.

Trenton, Jan. 27.—The U. S. grand jury went into court this morning with sixteen indictments. George J. Gould was among the grand jurors and when they were paid off by Marshal Alout, he signed for his check for $10.80 for three days' service at $2 a day and mileage at 5 cents a mile for one trip. Mr. Gould told the marshal that he would not get the check cashed, but would preserve it as a souvenir of his pleasant experience as a juror.

Steamer Aground.

Hamburg, Jan. 29.—The Hamburg-America steamship Patricia from New York January the fifteenth is aground in the Elbe at Schulan. She is being lightened.

Lady Salisbury is Feeble.

London, Jan. 29.—It was announced today that Lady Salisbury is still very feeble, a fact which has an important bearing on political affairs.

England or Russia can work off a few hundred millions on Spain without danger of a bloody resistance.

If American steel plants need protection, how is it that America supplies China with steel rails in competition with the world?

It is to be noted that those large journals that are without special Cuban correspondents are very bitter in their criticisms of the "unreliability" of Cuban news.

China occupies the rather unique position in the history of nations or of individuals of having two countries ready to fight for the privilege of making her a loan.

The Italian law selling titles for a few thousand dollars will result in a great export of American dollars and a falling off in the price of Counts on this side of the water.

The death of Aranguren who killed Colonel Ruiz suggests that after all retributive justice may not be a mere phantasm. It was a shady business—that shooting of Ruiz.

From one end of the State to the other the press has made the organization of the new insurance company here the occasion of kind remarks about Greensboro. And for these appreciative notices, the press may be assured, our people are grateful.

The letter by a citizen in yesterday's Telegram brought forward certain matters that should not escape the attention of men who have money to invest. Diversified industries, more factories, more skilled labor, more creation of finished products from raw materials: these are the things that count. The Telegram will always welcome to its columns contributions suggesting ways moves forward. Meantime re-read the letter and think about it.

It would be interesting to know just why the Merchants' Association of New York is opposed to the currency reform plan of the Indianapolis commission.—Norfolk Landmark.

Would it though? Nothing is easier: because the plan does not have New York attached to it. All the financial wisdom of this country swirls and eddies through Gotham's thoroughfares. Hamiltons and Neckers are just common every day fellows up there. Could any good thing come out of Indianapolis?

Representative Dingley has introduced a bill to permit the free entry of wild animals designed for circus uses.—Exchange.

What a deep 'un is the Honorable Nelson A. Dingley! Here is a scheme worthy of a statesman's brains and a politician's wiles. Mr. Dingley designs to capture at one swoop the rising generation of boys and land them in the republican ranks. Every roar of the "ferocious Numidian lion," every growl of the enraged Bengal tiger, every bray of the Spanish donkey will be eloquent of the statesmanlike attributes of the Honorable Nelson A. Dingley.

SATURDAY'S LITERARY CHAT.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

The January number of College Message contains an installment of Prof. Raper's excellent history of Church and Private Schools, dealing with those two old and noted institutions Bingham School and Salem Female Academy. There are few institutions in the State better known or more justly celebrated than these and their history must be a matter of interest not only to the hundreds of alumni and alumnae in every walk of life all over the State who have enjoyed their advantages but to the commonality as well. Around these schools clusters much that is best in the State's educational work or in those border fields of human endeavor and human interest summed up in the general term life. Their history is here given with the same accuracy and succinctness that have characterized the preceding parts of the History. The history of Bingham is complete in this number and Salem is brought down to 1888.

The Cosmopolitan for February presents an average table of contents. "The Last of the Valois" by Eleanor Lewis, a poem by Zangwill, "In the Realm of Woman's Dress," by F. W. Fitzpatrick, in which it is needless to say all women will be interested, "How the Banana is Grown," by Frederick Lyman, and "The Personal of the Supreme Court" by Minnie-Belle Maury, bring the reader to the second installment of Harold Frederick's "Gloria Mundi." This second part of the story does not keep up to the average of the first. There is a burden of detail that palls and wears. One hardly knows what better term to give the story than disagreeable. All the crisp freshness of the first part seems to have forsaken it. And Julian Gordon succeeds in bringing Mrs. Clyde to what may prove her death bed and then leaves her there. We are not eventful whether her daughter arrives from California before she dies or whether indeed she dies at all. Mean time a silly matron and a "Young doctor with a sharp clear-cut profile and frowning intent brow" discuss the question as to whether life is worth the living and what aims are worthy. E. Benjamin Andrews contributes an able paper on "The Selection of One's Life Work" and "Our Late War with Spain" is ended.

The British snobs now can peruse with delight a small beer biography of "H. R. H., the Prince of Wales," which even tells how many bottles of champagne he took with him on a Nile expedition, but does not refer to "baccarat," the Jersey Lilly, or several other glorious items in his career.

Dean Farrar has written a book of "Allegories." They consist of the "Life Story of Auer," "The Choice," "The Fortunes of a Royal House," and "The Basilisk and the Leopard."

An unpublished MS. left by Cardinal Newman is to be published in the first number of a new Roman Catholic monthly magazine, which will be issued in March, under the title of St. Peter's.

The scene of Rider Haggard's new story is laid, as usual, in Central Africa. It is to be called "Elissa."

Sir Walter Besant's forthcoming tale has been christened "The Changingling."

Jules Verne's new hero explores the North Polar regions in "Le Spinx des Glaces" (The Ice Spinx.)

Maarten Maartens has finished a new story, "Her Memory."

Max Pemberton contributes to the current Cassell's a complete story, "The Man Empress." Bret Harte also has a storiette, "See Yup."

Dr. Conan Doyle has written a new short story, "The Confession."

Mona Caird's new book discusses "The Morality of Marriage," and other questions on the status and destiny of woman.

Lord Nelson is to be the punyest figure in Douglas Sladen's next novel. It is understood that it will be an apology for Nelson's Lady Hamilton entanglement.

Stephen Crane has completed eight tales of adventures to be published along with "The Open Boat." Five of them are Mexican and Rio Grande border sketches.

What promises to be the great romance of the Irish Rebellion of '98 is to be published in May. It is by Katherine Tynan's husband, H. A. Hinkson, and is entitled "Up for the Green."

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

Daily $5 a Year—Weekly 50 Cents a year.

The Weekly Journal is a large paper, containing ten pages of seven columns each.

It is filled with the Latest News of the day, both domestic and foreign. Owning its own leased telegraphic wires, which are used for no other purpose but to bring the latest news to its editorial rooms, The Journal is prepared to get all the news up to the latest moment.

In addition to the news, it contains more special features than any other southern weekly. Among other things it has a weekly letter or sermon from Rev. Sam Jones, a contribution from Hon. John Temple Graves, letters of travel, biographies of distinguished men, and many other attractive features.

The Weekly Journal is beautifully illustrated by its own artist. In fact neither energy nor money is spared to make it the Great Southern Weekly.

CALENDAR-FREE. And the price is only Fifty Cents a Year. To every subscriber sending fifty cents for a year's subscription and a two-cent postage stamp extra (to pay postage) a beautiful lithographed calendar for 1898 will be sent free. Specimen copies free. Address THE JOURNAL, Atlanta, Ga.

Are You "Run Down?"

Until February, 1892, I was a physical wreck and had been for over twenty years. No one can ever know what I suffered from rheumatism and neuralgia in different parts of my body, but principally in my head. I suffered so much with pains in my back that often I would have to lay with bottles of hot water to my back to give me what little relief it would. I suffered with indigestion for years, which gave me often such choking spells that the doctor would have to be summoned in haste. I could not eat a mouthful of meat or solid food of any kind, and the eructation of gas from my stomach was distressing. My system was completely run down. I had no strength and was distressingly nervous. Sometimes I would be unconscious from these nervous spells and would have to have hot baths applied for relief. When I had been in this condition for over twenty years, Mrs. Joe Person visited our town in February, 1892, and persuaded me to try a half-dozen bottles of her Remedy, as she told me she had never known it to fail to restore a broken down system. I knew I would have to try something and thought it might as well be her Remedy as anything, but I had no faith in anything curing me. I bought a half-dozen bottles and when I was on the second I began to feel better and by the time I took the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion was perfectly cured and I can now eat anything I want and it agrees with me. It cured me entirely of neuralgia and I have never had it since. It cured me of hemorrhoids from which I suffered agony—rheumatism, headache, nervousness all cured. When I see any one suffering from anything I ask them why don't they take the Remedy that half a dozen bottles would cure them. I would not take hundreds of dollars for what it did for me. It restored me to health and now I enjoy life.

Alas! Ben Tillman.

The Hon. Ben Tillman does't care much for poetry as a rule, but he is known to be an enthusiastic admirer of the metrical compositions of the Hon. J. Gordon Cogger, the Swinburne of the Congaree. What remorse must bite Mr. Tillman's heart as he hears the Swinburne of the Congaree bursting into this tempestuous lament: "Alas! Carolina, Carolina, the land of my birth! Thy name shall be wafted from the mountain to the sea, As being the greatest educational centre on earth, At the cost of men's blood through thy 'One-X' whiskey." Alas! Carolina. Alas! Ben Tillman. —N. Y. Sun.

Sherwood, the Pianist.

Were Music-Hall possessed of ten times its present seating capacity, and had ten times that capacity been completely exhausted by the audience last night there would not have been one disappointed music lover in the lot. Mr. Sherwood seemed to surpass himself. From the very commencement of the program he carried his audience with him; and at the end he responded to the demand for an encore, which had repeatedly manifested itself during the progress of the recital. —Rochester Herald.

LINEN-MAKERS.

Ireland and Holland Have Most Women Engaged in the Work.

Though Ireland today holds the first place, so far as America is concerned, in regard to linens, Holland occupied that position everywhere in the past and holds it today in many parts of Europe. The very word Holland is employed to designate a fine linen cloth or a linen and cotton cloth and has been used for this purpose from time immemorial. It is both glazed and unglazed and used for wearing and household decoration. Flax grows well in that part of Europe, and the sunlight is said to be brighter and to have more power in bleaching in the Low Countries than elsewhere. The linen industry is carried on in Holland more by women than by men. In the fields there are almost as many female as male cultivators. In the harvesting there is an excess of women.

In the many processes, such as liming, hackling and spinning, the women outnumbered the men three to one. In the mills the women are in the majority. The men preponderate when it comes to the making of damasks and fancy designs. For at least four centuries it has been an honored custom in the Netherlands for young women to begin making their marriage portion in linen when mere girls. Some go so far as to start with the spinning, while those better off buy the finished cloth. All do the cutting and sewing. A wedding outfit consists of petticoats, nightgowns and other underwear, several suits for summer wear, sheets, pillow cases, bolster cases, pillow shams, shirts for the husband to be and a number of rolls of the uncut material for future emergency or use. Nearly every girl of marriageable age has a stock of these goods ranging from a trunkful to three or four times that amount. —Philadelphia Press.

MATTER OF PRONUNCIATION

A Father Who Seeks to Enlighten His Son on a Small Point.

There is a certain man who by the sweat of his brow—in summer time—earns his bread as a government official, with an office in the big state, war and navy building. He also earns bread for his wife and three children and a servant, who manages to carry a slice of pie along home with her bread about three evenings in the week. But that is the cook's privilege always. This official has a son aged 13, who is very nearly as sharp as the father thinks himself to be, especially in those things that everybody ought to know and not one person in a dozen does know. About three times a week the father comes to the office loaded with some new information which he seeks to impart to his fellow clerks by the inductive method—that is, he induces them to show how little they know; then he spings it on them. His strong point is words and their pronunciation, and he thinks he is an authority.

The other evening while he was entertaining three or four of his office friends at a small supper the eldest boy spoke up from the far end of the table. "Say, pop," he inquired, "how do you pronounce N-e-w-o-n-e?" spelling it out slowly.

"I presume," replied the father, with the courage of his convictions, "that it is an Indian name, and by the rule I would pronounce it Ne-w-o-y."

"But that isn't the way," dissented the boy.

The father was never more surprised in his life. "I don't quite see how it would be euphonious any other way," he said, with a mild air of offended intelligence. "What's the matter with pronouncing it new one?" inquired the boy, with a loud, irreverent ha ha. And the blow almost killed father. —Washington Star.

A Collector of Book Plates.

An interesting collection of book plates is owned by Mr. Howard Sill, head draftsman at the office of a firm of architects in this city. The collection consists of some 2,500 specimens—American, English, French and Spanish, modern and antique—belonging to the various periods known as Jacobean, Chippendale, Wreath and Ribbon, etc. Mr. Sill has collected many examples of the work of Dorkins, Johnson, the Mavericks, father and son, famous colonial book plate engravers; also some specimens of the rare and valuable work of Nathaniel Hurd, a New England engraver, born in 1720, a duplicate of one of whose book plates owned by Mr. Sill brought $80 in New York a short time ago. Mr. Sill has also one of the six book plates engraved by Paul Revere, which is of great value and interest. Among the colonial plates are those of William Byrd of Westover, Bushrod Washington, John Randolph, William Smith, president of William and Mary college; Charles Carroll, Thomas Heyward and Samuel Chase, signers of the Declaration of Independence. There are also many examples of modern book plate making, the work of French, Hopson, Spenceley and other well known modern engravers. —Baltimore American.

Thoughts. Thoughts are certainly able to spread themselves without the aid of looks or language. Invisible seed that floats from the parent plant can root itself wherever it settles, and thoughts must have some medium through which they sail till they reach minds that can take them in, and there they strike root, and whole crops of the same sort come up just as if they were indigenous and naturally belonging to their entertainers. This is even more true in great matters than in small. —Jean Ingelow.

Bad Every Way. "Thirteen is an unlucky number in all cases," said Jarley. "I don't know," said Butler. "I'd rather have $13 than $13." "I wouldn't," said Jarley. "If I had $13, I'd spend only $12, but if I had $18 I'd spend $18." —Harlem Life.

Rev. Dr. W. S. Creasy, wife and daughter, were in the city at noon returning home to Winston from a visit to Charlotte.

A Telegram was received here today asking that ten seats be reserved for University boys, who are coming up tonight to see "Wang."

That light business on South Elm street has not been remedied yet. It goes out whenever it pleases, and is not in a hurry to light up again.

George P. Phillips, who has been holding cases at The Telegram office for some time, left us today for Richmond, to accept a position on the Southern Tobaccoist. Success to him.

Messrs. Ad Williams, of Richmond, Dr. Badgett, of Caswell and J. S. Cobb, T. B. Yuille and R. M. Rees, went out bird hunting today. This means a shortage in the quail crop next year.

Mr. W. S. Overbey has and an advertisement in The Telegram. He guarantees first class work in his line, and in addition to general repair work in woodworking and blacksmithing, he has engaged the services of a first class painter.

McChamroch Bros have taken space in The Telegram, and today present a new ad for your perusal. They have a beautiful and handsome line of mantles, which they claim is the largest in the state, bought at low figures and offered at prices that will surprise you.

A party consisting of about fifteen couples from this city went out to Mr. J. R. Stewart's place about nine miles in the country last night, and engaged in an old fashioned country frolic. Sleepy and tired, they were returning at all hours this morning, from five o'clock until after sunrise.

The night robes offered you today as set forth in the advertising space of Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud, is a 75c garment, they are anxious to get these robes introduced to the trade. Knowing the true value of same, they do not hesitate in guaranteeing them to be worth more money. Supply yourself while the price is down.
